STRATEGY OVERVIEW AND OBJECTIVE

- Active value equity investment style aims to identify companies trading at prices well below intrinsic value
- Focus on preservation of capital while seeking to generate attractive absolute returns
- Managed in a flexible manner without market capitalization constraints
- Concentrated, high conviction strategy, typically comprised of approximately 20 positions
- Willing to retain significant levels of cash to allow portfolio managers to be opportunistic
- Long-term focus generally results in low turnover and low relative correlation to the S&P 500

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY & PROCESS

Flexible, fundamentally-driven research seeks to identify the best value across industries and market capitalization. Intensive proprietary analysis emphasizes areas that may generate mispricing, including undervalued companies, spin-offs, post-reorganization equities, and transformational M&A
